After downloading the allotment letter the candidates have to proceed to the convener for provisional admission. They have to deposit the required admission fees in shape of Challan and obtain a money receipt to that effect. The fees for Govt Medical Colleges is Rs. 40,000/- and in Hi-Tech Medical College, Rs. 4,50,000/- for non clinical subjects and Rs. 5,00,000/- for paraclinical and clinical subjects. In case the candidate changes his/her college, in subsequent counselling, they will not deposit any more fees in the colleges but they have to show the original money receipt received from the convener. At the end of counselling process if a candidate has deposited the fees but not taken any admission finally, then only 90% of fees deposited will be refunded. In case a candidate changes his/her admission from private medical college to Govt. medical College, then the excess fees paid will also be refunded.

If a candidate after taking admission in a college resigns after last date of admission is over, he/she will be guided by Clause 'K' of the Govt. guidelines.
